DEADLINE

The deadline for delivery of directory advertising materials is September 23, 2016.

All advertisements must comply with our digital file specifications.

Those companies that advertised in the 2015 directory may repeat their ads if there are no changes. *All ad copy and artwork must be black & white. “Camera-ready” artwork will not be accepted. Please see accompanying page with digital file specifications.

All ad files should be e-mailed to: Expo@TeamsterCenter.com

If you have questions please call Andrew Johnson at Teamster Center Services: 212-235-5003
Technical questions should be addressed to Bill Buckley – william.buckley3@gmail.com

*Cover ads — back cover, inside front cover and inside back cover — may be in color.

ADVERTISING REQUIREMENTS

General

Our printer will no longer accept film, so all advertisements must be supplied as digital files. We will not accept any ads in original document formats, i.e., Quark, InDesign, PageMaker, Illustrator, Corel, or the like. Files must be supplied in EPS or PDF formats only. If you are unfamiliar with the creation of such files, have it done by a knowledgeable person or by a service bureau (the specs are given below).

Please pay attention to the dimensions given on the preceding page.

Converting Color Ads

As noted on the previous page, all ads are black and white (cover ads excepted). Ads have been submitted that were prepared in color for other publications. These will image in shades of gray (if they image at all). Be aware that type which was perfectly readable in the color ad may not be as legible in the grayscale version. Type that is not 100% black will be composed of small dots; this won't be a problem for headlines and larger type, but the legibility of smaller point sizes will suffer. If at all possible, create the ad as black and white art, and make all small type 100% black.

EPS files

Encapsulated PostScript Files are acceptable as long as fonts are included in the file. If the EPS file calls a font that is not available on our system it will reproduce in Courier or some other default font. We cannot be responsible for font problems with supplied files. It is your responsibility to make sure that the fonts are included so that the file will image properly on any system. EPS files can only be printed on a PostScript printer. If you have a PostScript printer you should print the EPS file to see if it images properly. If you do not have one, then you should have a service bureau create the file for you, or create a PDF file instead.

PDF files

Files in Adobe's Portable Document Format are preferred. When the files are distilled make them High Quality or Press Quality for best results (options will vary depending on the version of Distiller being used). Avoid options like Screen Optimized or Document Distribution. Also make sure that all fonts are embedded. After distilling the PDF file view and print it in Acrobat Reader to see if all the elements are there. Again, we cannot be responsible for PDF files that do not image properly.

If for some reason you cannot e-mail your file, you can send a CD to:
